Pure Altitude: Edelweiss and Beauty

It all began with the mountain spa at «Les Fermes de Marie», where treatment protocols were implemented and tested to specifically meet the expectations of the clientele.

In parallel with the development of the spas, the desire to create a personal brand was born.

The creation of an alpine garden at Les Fermes de Marie was the spark. By observing the regeneration mechanism of mountain plants, the aspiration to create a skincare line took shape with the birth of Pure Altitude in 2000.

With its exclusive antioxidant and anti-aging properties, edelweiss naturally stood out as the key ingredient and emblem of the brand, present in every formulas.

Today, Pure Altitude is a brand that offers natural and effective skincare products, an independent label that provides an alternative to traditional skincare.
